

Update regarding any remaining 2020 DCSA funds

On December 27, 2020, the President signed the COVID-19 Relief Bill, which allows for changes to flexible spending accounts. The bill extends the Dependent Care Spending Account (DCSA) grace period for plan years 2020 and 2021 from March 15 to December 31 of each following year

If you have remaining 2020 funds in your DCSA you can continue to incur expenses through December 31, 2021, and submit claims for reimbursement using your 2020 funds by March 31, 2022. You will forfeit 2020 funds left in your account after the reimbursement deadline. Log in to your account at www.asiflex.com/SCMoneyPlus to check your balance.

Additionally, the bill makes a temporary change to the maximum age limit for eligible dependents in one limited circumstance:

- You must have been enrolled in a DCSA for the 2020 plan year; and
- Your dependent child must have reached age 13 during 2020; and
- You must still have unused 2020 DCSA funds available.

If you meet all of these conditions, you may request reimbursement for any eligible dependent care expenses incurred January 1, 2020, through December 31, 2021, for that child until the child reaches age 14. If you do not meet all of the above conditions, the normal rule applies, which states you can seek reimbursement for eligible dependent care expenses for children until they reached age 13.
